

MRS. ROBERT FREDERICK TATE.

Formerly Miss Margaret Schmelz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lane Schmelz, of Hampton, whose marriage took place Thursday afternoon in the home of the bride. Mrs. Tate has been considered one of the most beautiful girls in Virginia, and her marriage, though celebrated very quietly, was a notable society event.

SOCIETY

WEDNESDAY of this week will mark the close of the social life for this season in Richmond. Whether or not Lent is to be rigorously observed, it will not be fashionable to give dances, and beyond a few informal affairs now and then, society will sit prayerfully at home or go South or North, as the case may be, and the fancy please. The Southern resorts are crowded, and Palm Beach, particularly, is having a great season.

The German Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple for the younger set, a great many smaller affairs for the debutantes, and Mrs. Fred Scott's luncheon on Tuesday, which will mark another notable gathering of society, will officially close the social calendar for an unusually brilliant winter. A very long list of girls to be presented perhaps lent an added touch to the handsomeness of the occasion. The winter, and the number of beautiful balls that have succeeded one another have filled the days and nights with gaiety for all concerned.

Last week was a regular whirlwind of brilliant functions, and society attended in turn the last Monday German, an opera, the big Charity Ball, the concert of the University Glee Club and innumerable smaller functions of a more or less formal nature.

Mrs. Barton Wise was hostess at dinner at the Country Club last evening in honor of the dancers in the minstrel that opened the Charity Ball last Wednesday night. Covers were laid for thirty, and the table was arranged with pink tulips and rose-shaded lights.

Others entertaining at the club last night were J. D. Watson, Mrs. Vanderpoort, St. George Cooke and A. H. Burr. All of the tables were decorated in pink and blue.

Miss Dorothy Gilpin, who has been the guest of Mrs. Helene Blair on West Franklin Street for the past week, returned to her home in Baltimore Friday at noon. Miss Gilpin and her mother, Mrs. Henry Brooks Gilpin, will leave Baltimore March 3 for Atlantic City. They will later spend some time at their country place in Virginia.

At the Woman's Club. There will be a social meeting at the Woman's Club tomorrow afternoon tea being served from 2 to 4 o'clock. On Wednesday afternoon the Literary Round Table will meet at half-past 4 o'clock to discuss "The Circuit Riders' Wife" by Cora Harris, under the direction of Miss Josephine Sizer, Treasurer of the Club.

A very charming gathering place for society every afternoon during Lent will be the tea room at the Jefferson Hotel, conducted each year by the Girls' Club. It has always been one of the most pleasing and bright spots of the spring afternoons, and the tea bles are gay with parties from the time it opens. Hostesses for each afternoon include society girls, and the friends of these girls have made this function the fashionable feature of the Lenten weeks. The tea room will open Thursday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock.

Hostesses for the afternoons each week will be: Monday, Mrs. Edward C. Mayo and Miss Mabel Walker; Tuesday, Mrs. Robert Cabell and Miss Ella Buck; Wednesday, Mrs. Hiram Smith and Miss Postle Meredith; Thursday, Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. William Rutherford; Friday, Miss Evelyn Gordon and Mrs. Stuart Hume; Saturday, Miss Nellie Tompkins and Miss Marion Harris.

Leaving for Charleston. Mrs. Grayson Hall and Miss Ellen Witt will leave Richmond Thursday of this week to spend several weeks visiting friends in Charleston, S. C. Mrs. Hall has been in Richmond for the month of February, and will stop here again later in the spring on her way back to her home in Fauquier county, Va.

Entertainments Last Week. Miss Lettice Woodward was hostess at tea Thursday afternoon at the Chestfield, in honor of her guest, Miss Maxwell of Easton, Pa. A bowl of pink tulips decorated the tea table. Mrs. Edward P. Valentine entertained at dinner Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for twelve, and the table was arranged with miniature cherry trees.

Mrs. T. H. Ellett, who has recently returned from a stay of several weeks in New York City, was also one of last week's hostesses. Mrs. Ellett entertained at cards Saturday afternoon at her home on West Franklin Street.

Entertained in Norfolk. Mrs. Menahem Lankford entertained Thursday at cards at her home in Norfolk in honor of her mother, Mrs. Edmund Wadell, Jr., of Richmond. Three tables were entertained and decorations were in jonquills and ferns. Mrs. Wadell will return to Richmond in a few days.

Mrs. Thompson Barron, also of Norfolk, entertained at a very pretty luncheon at the Norfolk Country Club Wednesday, complimentary to Mrs. J. J. Hickey of this city, and Mrs. Ruth-erford Dula, of Danville. The table was decorated in pink flowers. Mrs. Hickey and Mrs. Dula have been guests of honor at several smart functions during their stay in Norfolk.

Stunning Wedding. At 3 o'clock Wednesday morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lankford in Staunton was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding, when their daughter, Miss Helena Barrett Lankford, became the bride of Benjamin Colquhoun Jones. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. H. Kern, of the Methodist Church, at a beautiful improvised altar, the bride and groom kneeling on a white satin cushion to receive the benediction. Professor Eisenberg played the wedding march from "Lohengrin," as the couple entered the parlor. The bride wore a lovely Irish point gown, and carried Bride roses. Mr. Jones is the son of Dr. H. C. Jones, of Logan, W. Va., and for some time has been studying for the ministry at Richmond College. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the early train for an extended tour, and will spend the rest of the winter in Washington.

To Hold Joint Meeting. The Co-operative Workers' Association will meet with the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia, at 307 East Franklin Street, Tuesday evening, February 28, at 8 o'clock. All league members are urged to be present.

The weekly meeting of the league on Thursday afternoon, February 23, was presided over by Mrs. Roy K. Flanagan, and discussed the mission, announced by the Child Conference to be held in Richmond during May.

Miss Elizabeth Cooke read a paper dealing with questions relating to child welfare. Miss Guiley told about what she saw at the recent Child Conference in New York City, and Miss Mary Johnston made a brief report of her recent visit to Baltimore, and read most effectively Mrs. Browning's "Cry of the Children."

A letter from Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, president of the Florence Crittenton Mission, announced her willingness to come to Richmond in April, at the invitation of the league. Mrs. Barrett has just returned from an extended Western tour. A feature of the afternoon was the reading of a suffrage poem by its author, Mrs. Gordon.

An Engagement. An engagement of great interest here just announced in New Orleans is that of Miss Dorothy Sanders, one of the most prominent young girls in that city, to Charles Edward Stuart, formerly of Alexandria, Va., and well known in Richmond, where he lived for a short time.

Mr. Stuart is a son of the late Judge Charles Stuart, of Alexandria, at one time Speaker of the Virginia House of Delegates, and of Mrs. Ruth Yeaton Stuart. Mrs. Stuart has many relatives and friends in Richmond whom she frequently visits. She spends her winter at her home in Bermuda.

The wedding will be a big social event of winter in New Orleans. The bride and bridegroom will go on a wedding trip to Bermuda, and will then make their home in Bluefield, W. Va., where Mr. Stuart is at present located.

At the Art Club. The regular weekly lecture before the Art Club of Richmond last Tuesday was an interesting description of the "Pagan Play," at Oxford, England, given by Rev. Ernest Earle Osgood, rector of Immanuel Church, Brook Hill. The lecturer showed complete familiarity with his interesting subject and conveyed a clearer idea of the play and its reason than is usual with talkers on that subject.

Mr. Osgood arrived at Oberammergau before the play began and remained for some time following its presentation, and in this way familiarized himself with many details not generally known. The lecture was given an additional interest by the numerous illustrations of persons and places connected with the great drama.

Among those who were present were Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Hemphill, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Cohen, Mrs. Tabb, Miss Dooley, Miss Houston, Mrs. Clarke, Miss Clarke, Miss Moncre, Miss Mayo, Miss Phillips, Miss Ragland, Mrs. Osgood, Miss Fletcher, Admiral Webster, Mrs. Jones, Miss Lyons, Miss Lorraine, Mrs. Clough, Miss May Danby, Mrs. Ashby, Mrs. Harriet Moncre, Miss Eubank.

Mrs. Frank E. Reid will give an illustrated talk on the Indians of Panama next Tuesday afternoon at 4:30. All members of the club and their friends have been invited. It may be recalled that Mrs. Reid gave a talk on the same subject a few weeks ago, but she has now several new pictures to be shown.

Goodbye—Daniel. Mr. and Mrs. William Daniel, of Farmville, Va., have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Charles Landon Goodloe, of Verdon, Va. The ceremony will take place on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 1, at 2 o'clock, at 18 Poplar Avenue, Norfolk, Va.

Guest of Miss Trant. Miss Mary Nelson Strayer, of Rocky Mount, Va., is visiting her cousin, Miss Rosa Trant, in this city. Mrs. D. S. Bromberg entertained at cards last Monday at her apartment in the Madison. Decorations were in spring flowers.

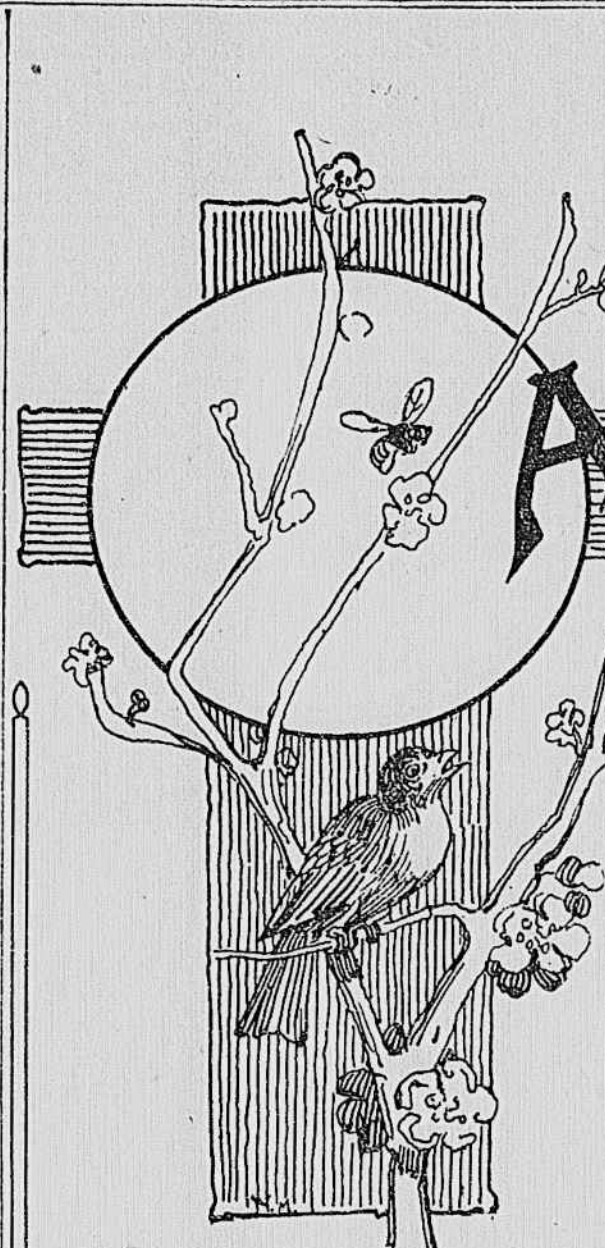

Mission Study Class. A Mission Study Class will meet at the home of Miss Norwood, 108 North Fifth Street, on Tuesday afternoon, February 28, at 4 o'clock. Organization, enrolment, selection of kind of study, etc., will occupy those who attend, and all interested in this work are asked to be present.

In and Out of Town. Miss Norma Deswell, of the University of Virginia, has been the guest of friends in Richmond for several days. Mrs. Charles Spicer, of this city, is visiting Mrs. Waverly Wilkins at her home in Petersburg.

Mrs. George Mason is the guest of friends in Richmond.

WANT LUXURIANT HAIR? THEN TRY THIS

"Every woman prizes luxuriant hair," says Mae Martyn, in the San Francisco Bulletin, "and many find that much depends on shampooing. Various preparations are used for this purpose, but few are free from injurious ingredients, and the result is thin, straggly hair and itchy scalps."

"A simple and inexpensive shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. This is poured on the scalp and rubbed until lathering freely, then the hair rinsed carefully and dried."

"Nothing so quickly promotes a healthy condition of the scalp as a canthrox shampoo, and its use is certain to produce glossy, luxuriant hair. Care should be taken to get an original package of canthrox."
